

TERMS OF USE AGREEMENT

The Canadian Baptists of Ontario and Quebec, its staff, sponsors and the writers and editors of the Yesterday, Today and Forever curriculum are not liable from any loss, injury or damages resulting from any use, intended or unintended of the curriculum.

COPYRIGHT USE

Any portion of this material can be copied and distributed (not for profit) provided credit has been appropriately given.

MEDIA USE

Please note that presenting a video in public (e.g. in a church) does require a license (similar to a CCLI license for music). You can obtain a license that will cover most distributors (e.g. Universal, Disney and 20th Century Fox) from companies such as Audio Cine Film (www.acf-film.com) or Criterion Pictures (www.criterionpic.com).

We suggest that you preview the movie clips suggested in each specific case. This will help you determine whether the clips are suitable for your group. Occasionally, YouTube or similar online resources may be referenced. Most of those resources are public domain, however, we encourage you to preview these to ensure the links are still active and appropriate.
