

The Born Identity

Identity is a major theme in this curriculum and The Born Identity tackles it head on. Through the metaphor of life stages, The Born Identity guides students through some of the issues that they have faced and will face when it comes to answering the question, who am I?

In Lesson One, Baby Love, students will explore life through the eyes of a new born baby or an adopted infant, to discover that they are no accident but a desired and beloved child.

In Lesson Two, Heroes, students will remember their heroes of old, the Batmans and the ballerinas of childhood dreams. This will lead them to a discussion of imitation in general, and ultimately, to the imitation of Christ, the Superest Super Hero!

In Lesson Three, Nine to Five, students will examine their own schedules like merciless professionals seeking balance and integrity.

Finally, in Lesson Four, Twilight, students will tackle the all-important difference between instrumental value and intrinsic value, just as many seniors do in the twilight of their lives.

Enjoy!
