Module: IDENTIFIED WITH

There are many things in this world that people choose to identify themselves with. Figuring out what things are worthy of this is paramount in the life of a student. These lessons will focus on what they may have already identified with, and will then highlight an aspect of their life and show that Christ is the better answer. Some of these lessons will have the potential to bring out a lot of vulnerabilities of the youth. It will be up to you to let them know that through all of these things, God still loves them, and still wants them to in relation with him.

In lesson one, Introduction, students will be led to realize that their lives may be identified by what has happened in the past, rather than how they want to live their lives from this point on. They will focus on some of the heroes of our faith and be drawn to how they are not identified with their past but rather their love for God, and his love for them.

In lesson two, Hatred, students will be encouraged to come to the realization that holding onto their anger deeply affects who they are. They will be encouraged to deal with their anger instead of letting it fester into hatred.

In lesson three, Hardship, students will learn that things that have happened to them and the difficulties that they have had to overcome are not what define who they are now. They will be encouraged to see Christ as their center and understand that their relationship with God is what matters most.

In lesson four, Guilt and Doubt, students will learn that these are things that all Christians go through and that they are not alone with these types of thoughts. They will be encouraged to accept these thoughts, but at the same time realize that God is still bigger than either of them.
