

Teaching Tip: Room Layout

Use the room to your advantage. There are many ways to set up a room, depending on what you are doing. Try to match these situations up with the best room layout for each one. The circles represent people and the rectangle represents the room. There is more than one possible answer. My answers are on page 175.

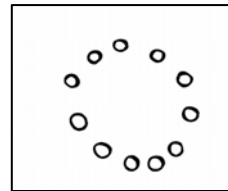

1. You want to create an intimate atmosphere for the community to sing songs of praise to God.

a)

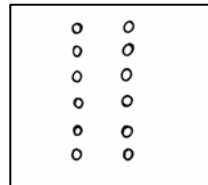

2. You want to create a debate on the issue of abortion. You want students to debate both sides of the argument.

b)

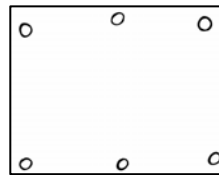

3. Tonight, the graduating students in the youth group are each going to share their testimony before begin commissioned to move on to the next stage of their education/life.

c)

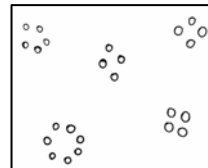

4. You want students to work in small groups to build Lego models that represent stages in the exodus.

d)

5. You want each student to pray by him/herself for fifteen minutes.

e)

f)

